

GENERAL SCHEDULE

Providence, RI

May 4-5, 2019

An general schedule will be posted on or before 8 PM, Friday, April 12, 2019

This event spans two days, but teams will only compete once. To give you a general idea of what day your team will compete, we will prepare a VERY TENTATIVE General Schedule by the date above. Please be aware that the General Schedule is subject to change. It is always in your best interest to book travel and hotel reservations that allow you to be present on either day of the competition in the event that divisions have to be moved from one day to another in order to accommodate all the registered teams. As we approach the registration deadline a more solidified General Schedule will be released.

It is strongly suggested to coordinate hotels through our exclusive Hotel partner, Team Travel Source. If schedules should change, they will have a better chance of adjusting room blocks then if you choose to book outside on your own.
